KITCHEN-CRAFTED INDIAN FOOD

Maya Kaimal is an award-winning cookbook author who learned the art of Indian cooking from her South Indian father. She traveled to India to study the culinary craft behind the tastes she loved. She was inspired to transform her family recipes into pantry-ready meal solutions made with premium, all-natural ingredients for an experience that is as close you can get to "scratch cooking". Maya brings a modern touch to Indian food, making it delicious, quick and convenient for all.

SUREKHA RICE

Introducing Surekha (pronounced sir-RAY-ka) Rice, one of the most widely eaten varieties in South India. We are the first to bring ready-to-eat Surekha Rice to the US market.

Our rice is organically grown on small farms in Kerala, India. Much of the planting and harvesting is done by hand, the old-fashioned way, allowing farmers to make use of land not accessible by farm equipment.

This medium-grain white rice is 'parboiled' locking in beneficial nutrients and fiber not found in ordinary rice. Surekha Rice is firmer and grains never stick together so it's perfect for soaking up delicious curries!

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW

Organic Surekha Rice is a South Indian white rice with a sweet-earthy taste. It's the perfect complement to our Simmer Sauces, Everyday Dal and Everyday Chana.

- Two ready-to-eat shelf stable varieties: Perfectly Plain and Turmeric + Cumin
- Clean ingredient profile made with carefully sourced, high quality ingredients
 - Our Surekha rice is grown on a small organic farm in Kerala
 - Certified Organic, Non GMO Project Verified, Vegan, Kosher Certified, Gluten Free
- Convenient, fully cooked, ready to eat in 90 seconds
- BPA free pouch
